Pastor's Message

Do not be afraid any longer, little flock, for your Father is pleased to give you the kingdom. Sell your belongings and give alms. Provide money bags for yourselves that do not wear out, an inexhaustible treasure in heaven that no thief can reach nor moth destroy. For where your treasure is, there also will your heart be.

Jesus' address to his disciples reveals the tender nature of their relationship. The image of a flock suggests both an intimate knowledge and a wholehearted commitment on the part of the shepherd. With this term of endearment Jesus assures the disciples that his teaching, regardless of how demanding it may seem, has their best interests at heart.

In the gospel passage for this weekend's liturgy, Jesus first announces that the reign of God belongs to the disciples. He then encourages them to live lives that demonstrate their citizenship in heaven, not on earth. With one caution he shows the kind of total commitment required of citizens of the reign of God—Jesus calls them to sell their belongings and give alms to the poor. For, as Jesus teaches, wherever our treasure is, there are hearts will be too.

Where is our treasure? Do we value the teachings of the Gospel enough to follow what Jesus places before us? Are we willing to live our lives on earth as citizens of heaven? If we do value eternal life and have the desire to spend eternity with God, the saints, and those we love, this value should show itself in the way that we choose to live today and every day of our lives. Let us pray that we may be people of faith, always ready to live according to the Gospel of Jesus Christ. In faith we put our lives into the loving hands of God, knowing that he will help us carry out our responsibilities here on earth.

Vocations Corner

Remember the hymn "Faith of our Fathers"? Although the hymn was written to honor the Catholic martyrs of the English Reformation, fathers of our faith, like Abraham, also came to mind through the hymn. By faith, Abraham obeyed; he sojournd; and he received power to generate. As we pray The Lord's Prayer, let us be mindful of Our Father's generous goodness and ask that the Holy Spirit be given to all those discerning their vocation in Christ. Please consider joining fellow parishioners in unity and prayer for Holy Vocations every Thursday evening in the daily Mass chapel from 8:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Special Collection this Weekend

The St. John Paul II Newman Center near the UNO campus is a parish like ours, except its parishioners happen to be college students. Many of these students are venturing out on their own for the first time, away from the watchful eye of their parents, parish priests and teachers. Because of their vulnerability to the demands and deceptions of the secular world, there is an urgent need to keep students rooted in their faith. Catholic students need a place to call their own – a place for faith formation, prayer, friendship with Jesus, recreation and entertainment. The JP II Newman Center is changing the lives of college students. That's why parishes across the archdiocese are holding a special collection this weekend.

Your financial support will provide the opportunity for students with common values to continue their faith journey through their college years and will encourage students to be leaders in their future parishes and communities. Please prayerfully consider giving to JP II Newman Center special collection.
