3RD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

"Come after me,
and I will make you fishers of men."
- Mt 4:19

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 C.C.D. ©L.P.

Pastor's Message — From Father Dave

As he was walking by the Sea of Galilee, he saw two brothers, Simon who is called Peter, and his brother Andrew, casting a net into the sea; they were fishermen. He said to them, "Come after me, and I will make you fishers of men."

The well-known story of Jesus calling the first disciples is told in our Gospel this weekend. When Jesus calls Peter and his brother Andrew, they were casting their fishing nets into the sea. As Jesus called them to come after Him, the Gospel says, "At once they left their nets and followed Him." As He continued on He saw two other brothers, James and John. Again He calls them and the Gospel says, "Immediately they left their boat and their father and followed Him."

In using the words "at once" and "immediately," St. Matthew is helping us to understand that there is a sense of urgency in following Christ. The first disciples left their family and their normal way of life to begin a new way of living in the light of Christ. Earlier in the Gospel passage, Jesus quotes the words of the Prophet Isaiah when He said, "the people who sit in darkness have seen a great light, on those dwelling in a land overshadowed by death light has arisen." Through His own ministry and the ministry of His disciples, the people living in the darkness of sin and death can experience the light that can only come from God. Peter, Andrew, James, and John have left their old way of life and have taken up the vital work of bringing the light of peace, reconciliation, and healing to a world that is waiting for a taste of hope.

We too have been called to make a change in our lives, to let go of our old ways, to let go of our sins, and begin again, walking in the light of Christ. We still live in a sometimes-dark world, and we are the modern-day disciples, called by Christ, to bring His light into the world. The gifts of reconciliation, peace, and healing will come to the world today by the way that we are faithful to our call to follow Him.

"We should be more concerned with reaching the lost than pampering the saved." -David McGee

Father Dave*

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Catholic Life Explained:

Question: If one's gift or talent is making money, and one uses that money for honorable purposes, is it considered a spiritual gift? What does our faith teach us about wealth and stewardship?

Answer: Jesus said it best: to whom much is given, much is expected. All gifts come from God, and our abilities are given to us to be used for the benefit of ourselves and of others and at the service of the Gospel. In an article entitled "The Many Faces of Stewardship," Catherine Doherty wrote about stewardship in the "nitty-gritty everydayness of my life," and about the currency or "money" of spiritual stewardship: love, understanding, and unselfishness.

For a gift to have a spiritual benefit, our intention and involvement would be part of the consideration. If I give money to a charity, but do so in order to gain a tax advantage, it could hardly be a virtuous thing on my part. But if I give because I want to help and, in fact, am even willing to get involved, I have committed myself in a deeper, more meaningful way. Regardless of our money-making talents, in the end, true stewardship comes down to how well we practice the virtues of faith, hope, and love within our life and with those in our community and church. Ultimately, the most important element in stewardship is not intangible—it's you! ©LPI

Peter and Andrew, James and John — they were not expecting God that day. But there he was, right in front of them, beckoning. God stands before us today, and like the Apostles, we often don't see him coming. But still, he beckons. Will we follow?
