Pastor's Message – From Father Dave

"Jesus said to the Twelve: 'Fear no one. Nothing is concealed that will not be revealed, nor secret that will not be known. What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light; what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops.'"

The first piece of advice that Jesus gives as He sends the Apostles out on their first mission is not to let anyone intimidate them. Who wouldn't be intimidated? The Apostles are afraid. After all, this is new to them, leaving their comfortable surroundings, leaving Jesus and their other friends, and going out into sometimes-hostile territory to spread the word about Jesus. Surely Jesus anticipated their fear, since he mentions the word "fear" three times in this passage. But the Apostles hear Jesus tell them that neither fear nor hatred can defeat His purposes. So close will Jesus be to them that He can count every hair on their head. If the Apostles keep their eye on their mission, they will have nothing to fear. And their reward will be heaven.

We all live with different fears—fears about our lives, our livelihood, our future, sickness, death, violence, and shame. These fears are all there in the lives of the Apostles too. But they went forth, fearlessly and faithfully, to proclaim the Good News that Jesus handed on to them.

This is our call too, to work through our fears and to be bold in living and proclaiming the Gospel of Jesus Christ. It may be intimidating and frightening to fully embrace and live our Christian faith, but this is what Jesus expects us to do. If we are going to be called "Christian," we must live our identity.

"God loves us in our sin, and through our sin, and goes on loving us, looking for a response." -Donald Coggan

Happy Father's Day to all our dads. May you have a day full of blessings! We also remember those who have gone before us in death. May they rest in peace.

*In Christ,
Father Dave*

Now Hiring at St. Stephen the Martyr

Parish Receptionist: Seeking a friendly and organized full-time Parish Receptionist to welcome parishioners and visitors while supporting the daily work of the parish office and pastor. If you enjoy helping others feel at home in a welcoming parish community, we would love to hear from you. Please send your resume and brief cover letter to Juli at j.han@stephen.org.

Director of Evangelization: Saint Stephen the Martyr Parish in Omaha is seeking a full-time Director of Evangelization to lead efforts in evangelization, faith formation, and discipleship. This leadership role offers an exciting opportunity to help form intentional disciples of Jesus Christ and advance the parish's mission. Submit your cover letter and resume to d.belt@stephen.org.

Part-time Housekeeper: Seeking a reliable part-time housekeeper to help maintain a clean, peaceful, and welcoming rectory for our priests. We are looking for someone who takes pride in their work and values a quiet, respectful environment. To apply, email Father Dave at d.belt@stephen.org.

Volunteers Needed for Votive Candle Replenishment

We are seeking a volunteer to help care for the Votive Candles in the Daily Mass Chapel on an ongoing basis. Responsibilities include replacing candles, cleaning the votive holders, and helping maintain the chapel's peaceful and prayerful atmosphere. If you are interested in learning more or volunteering, please contact Melissa at meli3773@ymail.com.

Linen Ladies Needed!

St. Stephen the Martyr is seeking several volunteers to help wash and care for linens that are used during Mass. Volunteers take linens home, care for any stains, and follow protocol for folding and caring for the linens used on the altar and around the church. If you are interested in volunteering, please email s.jizba@stephen.org. Thank you for considering serving the Lord in this way!

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Catholic Life Explained:

Question: Why are only men allowed to be priests or deacons in the Church?

Answer: One of the most debated and — in some circles — contentious teachings of the Church is that only men can be ordained as priests and deacons. Critics see it as a way of strengthening a patriarchal system in which women have little or no voice. Those who support this teaching look to New Testament teaching (where we read of Jesus choosing only men to be apostles) and the long-standing practice of the Church. This was certainly the perspective of St. John Paul II who, in his 1994 apostolic letter, Ordinatio Sacerdotalis, closed the discussion on the possibility of ordaining women as priests.

In the letter, he reflected on the dignity of women and their call to share in the life and mission of the Church, but he concluded by solemnly declaring that “the Church has no authority whatsoever to confer priestly ordination on women and that this judgement is to be definitely held by all the Church’s faithful” (no. 4).

This position has been upheld by Pope Francis in interviews, most notably as he returned from his 2016 visit to Sweden.

The ordination of women to the diaconate is another question and one which is being studied. In 2016, Pope Francis created a 12-member commission to study the question from several perspectives (theological, liturgical, historical, etc.). The commission issued an initial report for Pope Francis who later said that the commission had not yet produced a “definite response” to the question because of a lack of agreement on the role of female deacons in the Early Church.

For now, however, regardless of what changes might come from ongoing study and debate, the Church continues to reserve ordination to the diaconate to men only, recognizing a vital link between the diaconate and the priesthood and the lack of certainty about the presence and function of female deacons throughout history. ©LPI

Weekly Prayer

Sunday's Readings

First Reading:

"Sing to the LORD,
praise the LORD,
for he has rescued the life of the poor
from the power of the wicked!" (Jer 20:13)

Psalm:

Lord, in your great love, answer me. (Ps 69)

Second Reading:

But the gift is not like the transgression.
For if by the transgression of the one the many died,
how much more did the grace of God and the gracious gift of the one man Jesus Christ
overflow for the many. (Rom 5:15)

Gospel:

"What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light;
what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops."
(Mt 10:27)

Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

"What I say to you in the darkness, speak in the light." We all hear God's voice whispering in our hearts. Discipleship means speaking those words out loud. We all feel the Spirit sing into our souls. Discipleship means that we dance to the tune.
