24TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Peter approached Jesus and asked him, "Lord, if my brother sins against me,
how often must I forgive?
As many as seven times?"
Jesus answered, "I say to you, not seven times but seventy-seven times."
- Mt 18:21-22

Excerpts from the Lectionary for Mass ©2001, 1998, 1970 CCD.

Pastor's Message – From Father Dave

"Lord, if my brother sins against me, how often must I forgive? Seven times?"

Saint Peter thought he was generous in the number that he offered as appropriate for forgiving another person. After all, Jewish Law only required that a person be forgiven only three times. After that, they were treated as if they were dead. Jesus' response to Peter is a surprise, when he says, "Not seven times, but seventy-seven times." By giving such an extraordinary number, Jesus teaches that forgiveness is not meant to be measured or restricted but offered without end.

When we think of forgiveness and the challenge to forgive over and over again, we must recall how many times a day God forgives US. It would be interesting to keep a list for one day of all of our shortcomings: the angry word, the judgmental look, the uncharitable comment, the missed opportunity to help someone, the kindness that we didn't share. Within the confines of one day, the number of sins that God has forgiven in our own lives would be humbling and would cause us to re-consider how well we forgive one another.

If we adopt a constant attitude of forgiveness, exercising compassion and patience in every moment of the day, it will have an effect on every other aspect of our lives. The burden of anger, grudges, and lack of forgiveness can weigh heavily on us. Isn't it time to lay down the burden and forgive, forget, and follow Him?

"'I can forgive but I cannot forget' is only another way of saying 'I cannot forgive.'" -Henry Ward Beecher

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

Catholic Life Explained:

Question: Why can't everyone who wants to receive Communion, receive Communion at Mass?

Answer: Outside of the Church, many organizations have all sorts of requirements for membership: dues, achievements, professional standings, etc. The requirements bring the group together in common purposes and goals. Within the Church, there are also basic "requirements" for receiving the sacraments. As Catholics, we believe that the Eucharist is the true "Bread of Life." It is the Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity of Jesus Christ. When we receive the Eucharist, we are receiving Jesus. Out of reverence for Christ, only those in union with this teaching and in a state of grace should receive communion. As Catholics, we should abstain from communion if we are in mortal sin.

While we share many articles of faith with our Protestant brothers and sisters, their understanding of this teaching is fundamentally different. For most non-Catholic churches, they do not believe that Christ becomes truly present in the Eucharist. As such, they should not receive communion in a Catholic Church. These differences are greater for people of non-Christian faiths, and even more apparent for those who do not believe in God. Receiving communion is not a right, but a gift to be accepted in humble, trusting faith. ©LPI
